Professional Profile

Christina focuses her practice on complex cases including white collar criminal defense, products liability actions, and business disputes. She regularly serves as trial counsel, defending clients in federal and state cases. She has argued before the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals and has won or reduced in scope many cases based on pretrial motions.

Christina represents companies and individuals in government investigations, including investigations involving the False Claims Act, the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, Medicare fraud, corporate governance, securities issues and environmental compliance. She counsels companies and acting officers or employees when they come under scrutiny by federal or state authorities. She regularly works with clients and witnesses to prepare them for meetings with government attorneys and investigators, trial, depositions, court hearings, and other appearances.

Christina has been designated as a Super Lawyer for Missouri and Kansas. She was named as "Best of The Bar" for 2014 by the Kansas City Business Journal. She also has been recognized by KC Business Magazine as a "Rising Star" for impacting business and the community. Christina is a former Judicial Law Clerk of the United States District Court, Western District of Missouri.
